

National Executive Committee Election

Yasmine Dar

Rachel Garnham

Jon Lansman

The election of three Labour Party members' representatives on the party's National Executive Committee (NEC) is currently taking place. Members should receive their ballot papers in December.

These three candidates for the NEC are all standing on a platform to assist the party and its leadership defeat the Tories and secure a Labour victory at the next general election.

These candidates support the elected Labour leadership's progressive policies and will stand up for the rights of party members. They back a clear platform of: opposing austerity, supporting radical reforms to deliver economic democracy and championing greater internal democracy within the Labour Party.

Please vote for these three NEC candidates. Ballot closes at 12 noon on Friday 12 January 2018.

For a centre left NEC:

Vote for Yasmine Dar, Rachel Garnham and Jon Lansman.

Further information about the candidates and what they stand for can be found at <http://bit.ly/CLGANEC>

These candidates are supported by the Centre Left Grassroots Alliance that represents democratic socialist groups across the centre and left of the Labour Party.

■ If you have not received your ballot paper by 31 December, email CLGA.Labour@gmail.com

Campaigning for a Labour victory