Coming from a working-class background in the North, I see first-hand the disaster that the Tories are bringing to our communities. I see the pain they bring with their cruel policies and I see the torment they cause working people. But I have also seen the hope that a Labour Government under Jeremy Corbyn can, and will bring.

Yet we as a party face challenges that will hinder, not help our path to Government and rebuilding Britain, and it is the responsibility of the National Constitution Committee (NCC) to address many of these challenges.

We must take all forms of discrimination seriously, and in line with party rules, ensure that incidents of hostility or prejudice based on age, disability, gender reassignment or identity, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex, or sexual orientation are not tolerated. If elected, I will strive to ensure that there is no tolerance of racism, antisemitism, Islamophobia or otherwise racist language, sentiments, stereotypes or actions, sexual harassment, bullying or any form of intimidation in the party, considering each case with the full seriousness it deserves.

I believe I am fully qualified for this role, due to my experience of overseeing complex legal cases from my work as a solicitor, identifying legal challenges and appearing before the Courts frequently. In addition I have also served the Party in a variety of roles, from Youth Officer of my CLP in my younger days, through to Secretary of my local CLP, and on to a member of the Yorkshire and Humber Regional Board.

I hope that I can count on your support to help serve our party of the NCC.
